

INTRODUCING JEFFREY N. ZISSELMAN, JD,
WEALTH MANAGEMENT CONSULTANT,
THE PRIVATE CONSULTING GROUP

Jeffrey N. Zisselman, JD, is a Wealth Management Consultant with The Private Consulting Group, a full-service wealth optimization firm specializing in planning opportunities for a broad range of affluent clients. Jeff's training in both the legal and financial fields has enabled him to meld these two disciplines in a way which benefits his clients as they strive to protect, maximize and empower their true wealth.

Through his collaboration with the Wealth Strategies Design Team of The Private Consulting Group, Jeff is able to utilize proprietary techniques and creative solutions to meet his clients' objectives in the areas of income and estate tax savings, family wealth transfer and philanthropic planning. These solutions help Jeff's clients eliminate their dangers, capture their opportunities and reinforce their strengths.

The effectiveness of this planning is maximized through the use of tax-efficient investment strategies and cutting-edge financial products designed to meet the needs of individuals with substantial wealth. In addition to working with members of the Wealth Strategies Design Team, Jeff has worked in concert with numerous attorneys, bank officers, CPAs and other professional advisors throughout the country in order to assemble the best team for each client situation.

Many clients engage our services on a retainer basis, and ask us to coordinate with their existing advisors to review their existing planning, and when appropriate, design and implement sophisticated tax, wealth preservation and investment strategies. Our fees are quoted in advance after a careful study of a prospective client's affairs, and generally are significantly less than the income tax savings we generate in the year of our engagement.
